

With the following thematic route we will be able to know a part of the Agullent mountain range, traveling both the more humanized slope near the Sant Vicent hermitage, and the southern part that allows us to enjoy extraordinary views over the Vall d'Albaida, Vallieta from Agres and the immense natural wall that forms the Mariola mountain range. During the itinerary we will pass through the Font Jordana and we will follow the path that will take us to the house of the Torre del Pantonet. The climb, except for the first section, is smooth and maintained, always following the 500 m elevation with views of the Vall d'Albaida. We will pass by the Font del Patge and we will go bordering the Alt de la Vereda and the Filosa until the limits of the municipal term of Agres. Before reaching the top of the mountain range and reaching l'Alt del Torater, we will pass very close to the Cava de la Pedrera, a deposit of accumulation of snow with a circular plant excavated in the rock. It should be noticed the intense economic activity involved in the ice trade until the 18th century, and above all, the situation of the refrigerator at a relatively low altitude, which clearly indicates a significant change in climatic conditions. The thematic route ends again in Agullent descending the Camí dels Enginyers, built by forestry engineers at the beginning of the 20th century with the aim of repopulating the mountains. This network of stone-walled paths that run through the entire Agullent mountain range and the Ontinyent shady area is a true work of engineering of the time and is a cultural heritage that deserves its care and conservation.

If there is an emblematic mountain that defines the Vall d'Albaida, in addition to Benicadell, this is the Agullent mountain range.

La Covalta
Point of connection with the General Crossing:
km 195. Agullent

This thematic itinerary begins in the same town of Agullent and offers the possibility of extending the general journey in the last stage. It fully coincides with route no. 10 of the Center BTT El comtat, whose starting point is located in the hermitage of Sant Vicent.

The route has not technical difficulties. It is a sustained and prolonged climb, since the accumulated unevenness of just over 300 m is done for 10 km. It is suitable for any cyclist with a minimum of physical preparation, although a mountain bike is required.
